

End Goals

- Get a passing grade
- Create a site that entices people to hire me by showcasing previous work in a clean and minimal way

User Stories

- As a recruiter I want to know what he's worked on before so that I can get a general idea of his skill level
- As a possible collaborator I want to get a quick introduction to a person so that I can get a sense of the persons' style
- As a recruiter I want to know if a person has enough skills to work for us so that we can invite him to a meeting
- As a recruiter I want to know if a person has a creative side so that he's capable of combining code with design
- As a milestone evaluator I want to know if the site passes all the requirements and looks good as well so that we can give a passing grade
- As a coworker I want to know what sort of projects he's worked on before so that I know what he's capable of
